

Assisted return

If you do not have a residence permit in Norway, you must return to your home country. You can apply for support to return home and start a new life there.

You can apply for assisted return if you

- have received a rejection of your application for protection (asylum) or residence
- are waiting to receive an answer to your application
- are staying in Norway without legal residence

You will receive

- financial and practical support
- help to obtain a passport and travel documents
- a plane ticket
- advice from the International Organization for Migration (IOM) in Norway

What kind of financial support can you be given?

- If you apply before your deadline for leaving the country has expired, or before you are given a deadline for leaving, you will receive NOK 20,000.
- If you apply after your deadline for leaving the country has expired, you will receive NOK 7,000 and NOK 2,000 for each child who was under the age of 18 when you applied for assisted return.

Families with children will receive additional support of NOK 10,000 for each child under the age of 18 who returns. This only applies if they apply before the deadline for leaving the country expires.
